Contents. Vol. 1. Office bearers, 1857–58. — Rankine, W. J. M. Introductory address. — Discussion on Mr. Whitworth's proposed system of decimal divisions of the inch. — On M. Beaufumé's system of heating steam-boiler furnaces. — Downie, J., and Rankine, W. J. M. Blowing-fans. — Mackain, D. Description of a steam pumping engine at the reservoir in Drygate Street. — Neilson, W. Pumping engine valve; — Notes on American locomotive engines. — Smith, G. H. Speed governor. — Holland, J. S. System of decimal measures of length, etc. — M'Cormick, S. Screwing machine. — Robson, N. Navigation of canals by screw steamers. — Johnstone, W. Joint chair for railways. — Lawrie, J. G. Pointing fire arms; — Stability of locomotives. — Morton, A. Employing steam expansively. — Robertson, J. Winding apparatus including mining hoists. — Napier, J. R. Descrip. of the Great West of Scotland Fishery Company's steamer 'Isleman'. — Abstract of treasurer's account.

2. Office bearers, 1858–59. — Thomson, J. Centrifugal pump with exterior whirpool constructed for draining land. — More, D. Frictional engaging and disengaging gear. — Marine engines. — Bell, R. B. Patent slip docks. — Carmichael, P. Account of some practical experiments on the economic use of steam in steam engines. — Memoir of D. Tod and D. Mackain. — Stirling, P. Coal burning locomotive engines. — Gorman, W. Combustion of coal. — Lawrie, J. G. Combustion of fuel; — Effect of a third cylinder in the Clyde screw engine. — Rankine, W. J. M. Working of certain furnaces at Messrs. C. Tennant & Co.'s Chemical works, St. Rollox; — Method of estimating the probable evaporative power of fuel. — Combustion of coal, plans of Messrs. Clark & Yarrow. — Hunt, E. Patent-law reform. — Appointment of committee to report as to indicator connections. — Presentation to the Instit. of the model of the American river steamer Plymouth rock. — Neilson, W. American river steamers. — Napier and Sons, Messrs. Experiments on steel and wrought iron; — Tabulated results of the experiments.

3. Office bearers, 1859–60. — Neilson, W. M. Introductory address; — Locomotive pistons. — Rankine, W. J. M. Descrip. of Mein's improved machine for making glass bottles. — Braidwood, J. Descrip. of a sediment collector and a furnace grate for steam boilers. — Lawrie, J. G. Treatment of steam for the development of power; — Form of ships. — Milne, J. Enlargement of the junction basin at Grangemouth, etc. — Simons, W. Improvements requisite in iron ship-building; — Construction of battle-ships. — More, D. Hydraulic pressures and some improvements in their construction. — Morrison, W. Descrip. of arrangements for applying a hot-blast to locomotive furnaces. — Additional experiments with Mr. Morrison's hot-blast in locomotive furnaces. — Moffat, J. Improved smoke consuming furnace. — List of works presented to the institution during the session. — Abstract of treasurer's account. — Conversazione of the institution. — Smyth, Prof. C. P. Distance measuring in Russia.

4. Office bearers, 1860–61. — Rankine, W. J. M. Introductory address; — Application of transversals to engineering field work. — American air-engine. — Froude, W. Junction of railway curves and transitions of curvature. — Mr. Gravatt's method of applying the 'curve of sines'. — Stirling, P. Notes on Stirling's air engine. — Bell, W. Descrip. of diagram showing a reversal of curvature on the So. Devon railway. — Simpson, G. Pumps; — Ventilation of mines; — Canal locks. — Davison, T. Necessity for surface condensation. — Laidlaw, D. Gas engineering. — Bartholomew, H. Descrip. of the large gas holder and tank recently erected by the Glasgow city and suburban gas Co. — Ferguson, J. Underground mineral transit. — Descrip. of Mr. Lawrie's condenser. — Alteration of regulations. — Milne, J. Removal of the junction lock at Grangemouth harbour and its replacement by an enlarged lock. — Exhibition of Mr. Kirkaldy's picture of the Persia.

5. Office bearers, 1861–62. — Announcement as to prize medal. — First vote for books. — Johnstone, W. Introductory address. — Weir, G. Improved governor for screw propeller engines. — Simpson, G. Ventilation of mines; — Machinery for boring rocks. — Allan, A. Improved duplex spring buffers and draw springs for railway plant; — Improved roof lamp for railway carriages, etc. — Descrip. of a German veneer cutting machine. — Norman, J. Wood planing machinery. — Rankine, W. J. M. Frictional oil test; — Remarks on experiments on the liquefaction of steam in the cylinder of an engine working expansively. — Communication as to proposed Royal Instit. buildings. — Coradine's sheet metal splitting machine. — Spencer, J. F. Mechanical and economical advantages and disadvantages of surface condensation. — Whitesmith, J. Veneer cutting machinery. — M'Call, D. Movable bridges. — Alexander, W. Mining by Longwall. — Purnell's hot water circulating apparatus. — Stirling, P. Lubricating apparatus for locomotive and other steam engines.

6. Office bearers, 1862–63. — Johnstone, W. Introductory address. — Kirkaldy, D. Results of an experimental inquiry into the comparative tensile strength and other properties of various kinds of wrought iron and steel. — Committee for conversazione jointly with the Philosophical Society. — Dr. Rankine's experiments on railway axles. — Russell, G. Obtaining fresh water by evaporation. — Warner, J. Stereometric tablet for the computation of earthwork. — Napier, J. R. Instrument for extracting nails from timber; — Useful addition to a steamer's bilge pumps. — Gilchrist, A. Corrosion of a screw propeller shaft. — Barclay, A. Exhibition of models of cranes. — Communication from the Glasgow chamber of commerce as to patent laws. — Patent law reform. — Fyfe, J. Exhibition of safety apparatus for steam boilers. — Downie, J. Machine for testing cast iron. — Admiral Robinson's statement relating to the advantages of iron and wood.

7. Office bearers, 1863–64. — Napier, J. R. Introductory address; — Effects of superheated steam and oscillating paddles on the speed and economy of steamers; — Incrustations of marine boilers. — Rankine, W. J. M. Expansive energy of heated water; — Trials of the speed of steam vessels in a tideway. — Downie, J. Turned and bored joints for gas and water main pipes; — Renewing the substructures of railway bridges and viaducts without stopping the traffic. — Gale, J. M. Glasgow water-works. — Descrip. of a hydraulic engine for working organ bellows. — Inglis, W. Valves and valve gearing for steam engines. — Minutes of proceedings.

8. Office bearers, 1864–65. — Napier, J. R. Introductory address; — Formula for finding the size of a cylindrical segment balance weight. — Maquet, O. Bitumenized paper pipes. — Kirk, A. C. Machine for producing cold by the expansion of air. — Moffat, J. New method of building under water. — Lauder, G. Certain recent improvements in the manufacture of cast iron pipes. — Yule, J. Improved boiler carriage. — Joule, J. P. Self-acting apparatus for steering ships. — Fitzwilliams, C. H. L. New water engine. — Downie, J. On Low's machinery for quarrying, etc. — Leeds, W. E. C. Self-acting hydraulic coal cutting machine. — Carmichael, P. Factory chimneys.

9. Office bearers, 1865–66. — Lawrie, J. G. Introductory address. — Carmichael, P. Canvas for the sails of ships. — Rankine, W. J. M. Tenacity of some fibrous substances. — Robertson, J. Frictional screw-motions and applications. — Rigg, A., Jr. Patent duplex screw-propeller. — Smith, G. W. Method of propelling ships in a calm by the action of the swell or waves. — Napier, J. R. Balancing of a steam saw; — Demonstration of a rule for calculating the displacement of ships with trochoid water lines and certain forms of midship sections; — Memoir of D. Elder. — Hannan, J. Description of an improved steam engine indicator. — Lyall, J., Jr. Construction of iron vessels. — Clapperton, W. M'Dowall's corkcutting machine. — Ferguson, J. Safety and seaworthiness of vessels. — Discussion on the measurement of registration tonnage of ships as regards crew space and spar decks. — Letter from J. Page as to the advantage of turned and bored joints for cast iron pipes. — Neilson, W. Application of iron to pit-head framing and engine seats. — Barnaby, N. Connection of plates of iron and steel in ship building. — Proposed rules for the construction and classification of composite ships.

10. Office bearers, 1866–67. — Lawrie, J. G. Introd. address. — Smith, W. Improved overhead traversing crane. — Price, J. Comparative merits of the rules of Lloyd's and the Liverpool underwriters for the construction of iron ships. — Barber, G. Employment of steel in shipbuilding and marine engineering. — Page, J.

Railway carriages. — Thomson, Prof. Sir W. Rate of a clock or chronometer as influenced by the mode of suspension. — Skinner, J. Improved steering apparatus. — Drewsen, J. Improved steam ferry-boat for passenger and cart traffic. — Adams, T. Theory and practice of the side valve. — Hoel, T. Mode of collecting, etc., town sewage and the saving of water. — Graham, D. A. Method of utilizing sewage and preventing rivers from being polluted. — Mac Callum, J. Comparative strengths of long and short struts. — Napier, J. R. Indicator for ascertaining the speed of ships.

11. Office bearers, 1867–68. — Gale, J. M. Introd. address; — Port Glasgow water works. — Duncan, R. Remarks on the proposed amendments of the merchant shipping act. — Napier, J. R. Remarks on the 3d, 13th, and 14th articles of admiralty regulations for preventing collisions at sea. — Day, St. J. V. Certain points in the manufacture of malleable iron. — Page, J. Contents. Vol. 1. Notice sur L., par M. Delambre. — Vol. 1. Section 1. Mémoires extraits des recueils de l'Acad. de Turin. Recherches sur la méthode de maximis et minimis. — Sur l'intégration d'une équation différentielle à différences finies, etc. — Recherches sur la nature et la propagation du son. — Essai d'une nouvelle méthode pour déterminer les maxima et les minima des formules intégrales indéfinies. — Application de la méthode à la solution de différents problèmes de dynamique. — Solution de différents problèmes de calcul intégral. — Solution d'un problème d'arithmétique.

2. Sur l'intégration de quelques équations différentielles dont les indéterminées sont séparées, mais dont chaque membre en partic. n'est point intégrable. — Sur la méthode des variations. — Recherches sur le mouvement d'un corps qui est attiré vers deux centres fixes. — Sur la figure des colonnes. — Mémoire sur l'utilité de la méthode de prendre le milieu entre les résultats de plusieurs observ., dans lequel on examine les avantages de cette méthode par le calcule des probabilités, et où l'on resout différents problèmes rel. à cette matière. — Sur la percussion des fluides. — Sur une nouvelle méthode de calcul intégral pour les différentielles affectées d'un radical carré sous lequel la variable ne passe pas le 4e degré. — Sect. 2. Mémoires extraits des recueils de l'Acad. R. des Sci. de Berlin. Sur les courbes tautochrones. — Sur le passage de Venus du 3 juin 1769. — Sur la solution des problèmes indéterminés du second degré. — Sur la résolution des équations numériques. — Addit. au Mém. sur la resolution des équations numeriques. — Nouv. méthode pour résoudre les problèmes indéterminés en nombres entiers.

3. Sect. 2 contin. Nouv. méthode pour résoudre les équations littérales par le moyen des séries. — Sur la force des ressorts pliés. — Sur le problème de Kepler. — Sur l'élimination des inconnues dans les équations. — Nouv. réflexions sur les tautochrones. — Démonstration d'un théorème d'arithmétique. — Réflexions sur la résolution algébrique des équations. — Démonstration d'un théorème nouveau conc. les nombres premiers. — Sur une nouvelle espèce de calcul rel. à la différentiation et à l'intégration des quantités variables. — Sur la forme des racines imaginaires des équations. — Sur les réfractions astronomiques. — Sur l'intégration des équations à différences partielles du premier ordre. — Nouvelle solution du problème du mouvement de rotation d'un corps de figure quelconque qui n'est animé par aucune force accélératrice. — Sur l'attraction des sphéroïdes elliptiques. — Solutions analytiques de quelques problèmes sur les pyramides triangulaires. — Recherches d'arithmétique.

4. Sect. 2 contin. Les intégrales particulières des équations différentielles. — Le mouvement des nœuds des orbites planétaires. — Sur les suites récurrentes dont les termes varient de plusieurs manières différentes, ou sur l'intégration des équations linéaires aux différences finies et partielles; et sur l'usage de ces équations dans la théorie des hasards. — Sur l'altération des moyens mouvements des planètes. — Solution algébrique d'un problème de géométrie. — Sur la détermination du nombre des racines imaginaires dans les équations littérales. — Sur quelques problèmes de l'analyse de Diophante. — Sur le mouvement de plusieurs corps qui s'attirent mutuellement en raison inverse des carrés des distances. — Sur l'échappement. — Sur le problème de la détermination des orbites des comètes d'après trois observations. — Sur la théorie des lunettes. — Sur une manière particulière d'exprimer le temps dans les sections coniques, décrites par des forces tendantes au foyer et réciproquement proportionnelles aux carrés des distances. — Sur différentes questions d'analyse rel. à la théorie des intégrales particulières. — Sur la construction des cartes géog. — Sur la théorie du mouvement des fluides.

5. Sect. 2 contin. Théorie de la libration de la lune et des autres phénomènes qui dépendent de la figure non sphérique de cette planète. — Théorie des variations séculaires des éléments des planètes, 1e, 2e partie. — Theorie des variations périodiques des mouvements des planètes, 1e, 2e partie. — Sur les variations séculaires des mouvements moyens des planètes. — Sur la manière de rectifier les méthodes ordinaires d'approximation pour l'in-

Contents. Vol. 1. Laws and regulations; with a list of the members. — Bell, G. On the opinion that the animal body possesses the power of generating cold. — Henry, T. Advantages of literature and philosophy, and especially on the consistency of literary and philosophical with commercial pursuits; — Preservation of sea water from putrefaction by quicklime; added, an account of a machine for impregnating fluids with fixed air. — Eason, A. On crystallization. — Barnes, T. Nature of poetry; — The affinity between the arts. — Aikin, J. The different success, with respect to health, of some attempts to pass the winter in high northern latitudes. — Polier, C. de. The pleasure from the exercise of taste. — Wimpey, J. Œconomical registers. — Barnes, T. Pleasures which the mind receives from contemplating scenes of distress. — Bew, G. Blindness, and the employment of the other senses to supply the loss of sight. — Massey, J. Saltpetre. — Hall, S. That a taste for the beauties of nature and the fine arts has no influence favourable to morals. — Eason, A. Use of acids in bleaching linen. — Wall, M. The symbols of the planets and metals. — Falconer, W. The knowledge of the ancients; — Influence of the scenery of a country on the manners of its inhabitants; — Style and taste of gardening among the ancients. — Percival, T. Tribute to C. de Polier. — White, C. Regeneration of animal substances. — Hunting, shooting, fishing, as compatible with humanity. — Fothergill, A. Longevity. — Barnes, T. Influence of the imagination and the passions upon the understanding. — Eason, A. Ascent of vapour. — Kershaw, T. Comparative merit of the ancients and the moderns with respect to the imitative arts. — Wimpey, J. Impropriety of allowing a bounty to encourage the exportation of corn. — White, C. Natural history of the cow. — Henry, T. Magnesian earth.

2. Barnes, T. Public and private education; — Extension of liberal education in Manchester; — Plan of liberal education for young men designed for civil and active life. — Constitutions of the college of arts and sciences in Manchester. — Watson, R. Orichalcum. — Wall, M. Origin of the vegetable fixed alkali, with obs. on nitre. — Johnstone, J. Life and writings of Prof. Gregory. — Falconer, Dr. Knowledge of the ancients resp. glass. — Percival, T. On the different quantities of rain which fall at different heights over the same spot of ground, with a letter from B. Franklin; — Perceptive power of vegetables. — Delaval, E. H. Cause of the permanent colours of opake bodies. — Henry, T. Ferments and fermentation. — Wakefield, G. Origin of alphabetical characters. — Turner, W. Crimes and punishments. — Percival, T. Experimental philosophy; — Influence of fixed air on vegetation. — White, C. A thigh bone of uncommon length. — Franklin, B. Meteorological imaginations and conjectures. — White, T. Subterraneous cavern at Paris. — Nicholson, W. New instrument for measuring specific gravity. — Currie, J. Memoirs of Dr. Bell. — Bell, Dr. Thesis, De physiologia plantarum; tr. — Wall, M. Phenomena which take place between oil and water. — Percival, T. Attraction and repulsion. — Wall, Dr. Two letters in reply. — Barnes, T. Voluntary power of the mind over bodily sensation. — Percival, T. Sufferings of a collier confined in a coal pit. — Rush, B. Obs. during his attendance as physician-general of the military hospitals of the United States. — Delivery of the gold and silver medals to E. A. Delaval and T. Henry, Jr.

3. Percival, T. Principles and limits of taxation; — Attraction and repulsion. — Ferriar, J. Popular illusions, and particularly medical demonology; — Dramatic writings of Massinger. — Henry, T. Bills of mortality for Manchester and Salford; — A person becoming short-sighted in age. — Henry, T., Jr. Increase of weight during cooling. — Banks, —. Floating of cork balls. — Rush, B. Population, etc., in Penn. — Percival, T. Operation of medicines. — Ferriar, J. Vital principle. — Roscoe, W. Comparative excellence of the sciences and arts. — Clayton, R. Cretins of the Vallais. — Hey, Mr. Eye of the seal. — Falconer, W. Knowledge of the ancients resp. electricity. — Barritt, T. Druidical remains near Halifax. — Ferriar, J. Ancient monument in Huln Abbey. — Sharp, R. Nature and utility of eloquence. — Rotherham, J. Properties of geometrical series in a problem thought indeterminate. — Wood, J. Halos. — Henry, T. Wool, silk, and cotton, in dyeing. — Cooper, T. History of physiognomy; — Foundation of civil government; — Art of painting among the ancients. — Haygarth, J. Glory. — Willis, T. Fusion of platina. — Watt, J., Jr. Aerated barytes; — Combinations of the terra ponderosa. — Principle of taxation.

4, pt. 1. Gough, J. Lakes more numerous than at present. — Ferriar, J. Argument against materialism; — Comments on Sterne. — Willis, T. Blue colours from soda phosporata. — Aikin, J. The impression of reality attending dramatic representations. — Gregory, G. Uses of classical learning. — Riddell, R. Ancient carved stone monuments in Scotland. — Harvey, S. On alphabetical characters. — Henry, P. Action of metallic oxydes and earths upon oils. — Copland, A. Ancient mode of sepulture in Scotland. — Garnett, T. Meteorological obs. on the western coast of Great Britain.

4, pt. 2. Gough, J. Laws of motion of a cylinder; — Exper. on the vegetation of seeds. — Falconer, W. History of sugar. — Beddoes, T. Letter to T. Henry; — Obs. on flints of chalk-beds. — Hoffman, F. Plica Polonica. — Copland, A. Combustion of dead bodies. — Richardson, T. On planting waste land. — Inverse method of central forces. — Ferriar, J. Use of ancient terrassed works. — Bardsley, S. A. Hydrophobia. — Barritt, T. Origin of anc. carved pillars and obelisks in Gr. Brit. — Meteorological observations.

5, pt. 1. Bardsley, S. A. Party-prejudice. — Dalton, J. Vision of colours. — Uredale, R. Founder of Huln Abbey. — Gough, J. Variety of voices. — Gisborne, T. Benefits of societies for the advancement of literature, etc. — Anderson, J. Universal character. — Holme, Dr. Inverse method of central forces. — Collier, J. Iron and steel. — Rupp, T. L. Priestley's experiments on atmospheric air. — White, C. Three kinds of timber trees. — Lambe, W. Mineral springs at Leamington Priors. — Guthrie, M. Persian cotton tree. — Hoyle, T., Jr. Oxygenated muriat of potash. — Collier, J. Distillation of ardent spirit. — Brown, W. Universal written character. — Rupp, T. L. Bleaching with the oxygenated muriatic acid. — Fisher, M. Change of colour in a negro.

5, pt. 2. Walker, G. Tragedy. — Dalton, J. Obs. whether the quantity of rain and dew is equal to the water carried off by rivers; with enquiry on springs; — Power of fluids to conduct heat, with reference to Rumford's essay. — Banks, —. Velocity of air issuing out of a vessel; with instrument to measure the force of the blast in bellows. — Walker, G. The beautiful in the human form; — Defence of learning and arts against Rousseau. — Hull, J. Nervous systems of animals. — Dalton, J. Heat and cold produced by mechanical condensation and rarefaction of air; — Mixed gases; force of steam; evaporation; expansion of gases by heat. — Barritt, T. Antiques found in the Ribble. — Henry, W. Materiality of heat. — Gough, J. Method whereby men judge by the ear of the position of sonorous bodies; — Theory of compound sounds. — Dalton, J. Meteorolog. obs. at Manchester. — Barritt, T. Roman inscription in Castlefield, Manchester. — Note to Henry's paper on heat.

2d series. Vol. 1. Alexander, W. Effects of opium. — Walker, G. Machinery of the ancient epic poem. — Gibson, B. Effect of madder root on the bones of animals. — Bardsley, S. A. Use and abuse of popular sports and exercises. — Grant, J. Reverie. — Dalton, J. Enquiry into the proportion of the several gases or elastic fluids constituting the atmosphere; — Tendency of elastic fluids to diffusion through each other; — Absorption of gases by water. — Gough, J. Property of caoutchouc; — Theory of mixed gases, and state of water in the atmosphere. — Gibson, B. Use of the sutures in the skulls of animals. — Walker, G. Moral influence of history; — Natural and moral philosophy, and the proper manner of philosophising. — Holland, J. History and historians. — Gough, J. Reply to Dalton's objections to a late theory of mixed gases. — Dalton, J. Remarks on Gough's essays on mixed gases; and on Schmidt's experiments on expansion of air by heat.

2. Sharp, J. To ascertain whether the force of steam be in proportion to the generating heat. — Dalton, J. Respiration and animal heat. — Dewar, H. Principles by which the importance of foreign commerce ought to be estimated. — Johns, W. Figurative language. — Ewart, P. Measure of moving force. — Nicholson, M. Effect produced by a stroke of lightning. — Gough, J. Vis viva; — Ebbing and flowing well at Giggleswick; with a theory of reciprocating fountains; — On summer birds of passage, and on migration. — Henry, W. Theories of the excitement of galvanic electricity; — Eudiometer, and other apparatus employed in experiments on gases; — Uric acid. — Martin, W. Rottenstone. — Jarrold, T. National character. — Wildbore, C. Demonstration of Lawson's geometical theorems.

3. Dalton, J. Phosphoric acid and the phosphates; —

Combinations of carbonic acid and ammonia; — Analysis of spring and mineral waters. — Henry, T. Memoirs of C. White. — Otley, J. Floating island in Derwent Lake. — Creighton, H. Refractive powers of muriatic acid and water. — Turner, W., *Jr. Origin of alphabetical characters. — Kennedy, J. Progress of the cotton trade in Gr. Brit. — White, J. New system of cog wheels. — Longmire, J. B. Flexibility of mineral substances, and causes of creeps in old coal mines. — Otley, J. Black lead mine in Borrowdale, Cumberland. — Smethurst, R. A white solar rainbow. — Moore, J., *Jr. Remarks, Westmoreland and Cumberland, 1815. — Henry, W. Tribute to T. Henry. — Carbutt, E. Signs of ideas. — Lucas, S. Deoxidation of metals, particularly silver and copper. — Wood, K. Callous tumour. — Kenrick, J. Possibility of reconciling the Scriptural and profane accounts of the Assyrian monarchy. — Parkes, S. Manufacture of tin plate. — Gough, J. Laws of statical equilibrium. — Henry, W. The gas from coal. — Kennedy, J. Effects of the poor laws. — Dalton, J. Sulphuric ether; — Obs. on the barometer, etc., 1794–1818.

4. Robinson, S. Life of Ferdoosee. — Dalton, J. Oil, and the gases obtained from it by heat; — Obs. in meteorology, with regard to the dew-point. — Wood, K. Local prevalence of idiotism, and its connection with goitre. — Blackwall, J. Periodical birds observed near Manchester; — Notes of birds. — Greg, R. H. Site of Troy; — Round towers of Ireland. — Hodgkinson, E. Transverse strain, and strength of materials. — Dalton, J. Saline impregnation of the rain, Dec. 5, 1822; — Nature and properties of indigo. — Tayler, J. J. Nature of genius. — Blackwall, J. Of the cuckoo. — Whatton, W. Armorial bearing of Manchester, and on the descent of the baronial family of Grelley. — Henry, W. Analysis of aeriform compounds of nitrogen.

5. Gibson, E. Curve of quickest descent in reference to Ewart's problem memoirs. — Otley, J. Floating island of Derwent Lake. — Kennedy, J. Influence of machinery. — Blackwall, J. Remarkable fact in the natural history of the swallow tribe; — Meteorol. obs. in Crumpsall; — Anthelia obs. in ascending Snowdon; — White lunar rainbow; — Twinkling of the stars; — — Injury done to the foliage of the oaks. — Hopkins, T. State of Britain at its conquest by the Romans. — Moore, J. Study of entomology, and on an insect which devours the leaves of the gooseberry bush. — Dalton, J. Nature of the rock strata. — Thomson, W. Nat. hist. of Llandudno parish. — Potter, J. Weights of gases. — Hadfield, W. Astron. obs. at Ivy Cottage to determine its latitude and longitude. — Hopkins, T. Diverging streams of compressed air. — Otley, J. On 'a floating island at Newberry Port, by A. Pettingall'. — Dalton, J. Rain at Geneva and St. Bernard; — Effects of atmospheric pressure; — Quantity of food taken by a person in health. — Fleming, T. Rain on the line of the Rochdale Canal. — Blackwall, J. Instincts of birds. — Kennedy, J. Memoir of S. Crompton. — Hodgkinson, E. Forms of the catenary in suspension bridges; on the chain bridge at Broughton; on the Menai bridge; and researches to ascertain the strength and best forms of iron beams.

6. Moore, J. Effects of frost on the blossoms of the jargonelle pear. — Hadfield, W. Quantity of carbonic acid in the atmosphere. — Greg, W. R. Sepulchral monuments of Sardis and Mycenæ. — Kenrick, J. Origin of modern corporations from the municipia of the Romans. — Watson, H. H. Efflorescing properties of some salts of soda. — Henry, W. C. Memoir of Dr. Henry. — Johns, W. Use of Greek letters by the Gauls and Druids. — Hadfield, W. Specific gravities of the steam or vapour from water, alcohol, ether, pyroxilic spirit, and nitric acid. — Fairbairn, W. Cast iron. — Watson, H. H. Dr. Thompson's paper on the combinations of sulphuric acid and water; — Relative attractions of sulphuric acid for water. — Moore, J. Memoir of E. Hobson. — Greg, W. R. Cyclopian, Pelasgic, and Etruscan remains. — Albert, D. Rohan potatoe; — Carbonizing turf without producing ashes. — Just, J. Roman road in the vicinity of Bury. — Heywood, J. Coal district of South Lancashire. — James, P. M. Sculpture. — Nasmyth, J. Origin of the Babylonian or arrow-headed character. — Fairbairn, W. Anthracite cast iron. — Dalton, J. Barometer, etc., obs. at Manchester; — Aurora Borealis of Nov. 3, 1834. — Watson, H. H. On detecting the presence of arsenic.

7. Just, J. Roman military road between Manchester and Ribchester. — Johns, W. Surnames. — Taylor, J. J. Life of J. E. Bowman. — Joule, J. P. Heat evolved during the electrolysis of water. — Henry, W. C. Notice of P. Ewart. — Hodgkinson, E. Account of Ewart's paper on moving force. — Bateman, J. F. Rain-fall, rel. to the water flowing from the ground; — Rain guages. — Sturgeon, W. Magnetism of ferruginous bodies. — Wembergue, F. E. Affinities between the ancient and modern languages of the south of Europe and those of the north. — Wallace, R. The Ictis of Diodorus Siculus. — Gibson, E. Opening of an ancient barrow, called Castle Hill, near Newton-in-Makerfield. — Bamber, R. P. Guano as a manure; — Farinaceous products of the potatoe. — Black, J. On the seteia and belisama of Ptolemy. — Just, J. History of certain Anglo-Saxon roots nearly obsolete; — Anglo-Saxon patronymics. — Rawson, R. Summation of series. — Gibson, E. Pressure of steam which caused the explosion of the boiler of the Irk locomotive; — Roman public way from Manchester to Wigan. — Joule, J. P. Specific heat of bodies. — Just, J. Philosophy of farming. — Sturgeon, W. Magnetic character of simple metals.

8. Williamson, W. C. Microscopical objects found in the mud of the Levant. — Hopkins, T. Atmospheric disturbances at Bombay. — Binney, E. W. Origin of coal; — Drift deposits of Manchester. — Rawson, R. Discontinuous functions. — Goodman, J. A new voltaic battery; — Light, heat, electricity, and magnetism. — Just, J. Maturation of grain. — Rawson, R. Physical data. — Joule, J. P. Electrical currents for ascertaining the specific heat of bodies. — Smith, R. A. Water from peat and soil. — Sturgeon, W. Aurora Borealis; — Formation of clouds. — Ransome, T. Analysis of a saline spring. — Rawson, R. Laplace's theorem on attraction. — Binney, E. W. Geology of Low Furness. — Young, J. Deodorization of manures. — Holme, E. Progress of sculpture to the time of Phidias.

9. Clare, P., and Bateman, J. F. Report on rainfall. — Kirkman, T. P. Mnemonic aids in the study of analysis. — Hopkins, T. Formation of dew. — Sturgeon, W. Lightning and lightning conductors. — Goodman, J. Light, heat, electricity, magnetism, and gravitation. — Just, J. Faults in farming. — Joule, J. P. Heat. — Binney, E. W. A mineral vein; — Vein of lead. — Calvert, F. C. Oxides and nitrates of lead. — Smith, R. A. A meteorite which fell at Allport. — Fairbairn, W. Powers of the locomotive, and resistance of gradients; — Tubular girder bridges. — Hopkins, T. Causes of unequal falls of rain. — Harley, R. Impossible and other surd equations. — Finlay. Impossible equations. — Leigh, J. Gas produced by distillation of tar and water; — Chemical changes attending the formation of coal; — Gaseous mixtures. — Kirkman, T. P. Linear constructions. — Binney, E. W. Supposed meteorites found in seams of coal. — Williamson, W. C. Volvox globator; — Sternborgiæ.

10. Hopkins, *Mr. Great currents of the ocean; — Storms. — Caw, J. Y. 'The deserted village' of Goldsmith. — Finlay, R. Equation of curves. — Frankland, E. Manufacture of gas. — Binney, E. W. Drift deposits near Blackpool; — Trails and holes in rocks. — Bateman, J. F. Floods at the Manchester water works, 1852. — Goodman, J. Light, heat, electricity, magnetism, and gravitation. — Joule, J. P. Chemical forces. — Jones, H. H. Biog. notice of P. Clare. — Smith, R. A. Air and rain of Manchester.

11. Hopkins, T. Aqueous and gaseous pressures of the atmosphere. — Binney, E. W. Action of old coal pit water upon iron. — Smith, R. A. Sanitary economy. — Harland, J. Memoir of J. Just. — Wilkinson, T. T. Lancashire geometers and their writings. — Haeffely, E. Use of the sulpho-purpuric acid in the dyeing of worsted and silk. — Calvert, F. C. Poisoning by sulphate of protoxide of iron. — Finlay, R. Supplementary curves. — Hopkins, T. Influence of sun-heated land in producing ascending atmospheric currents.

12. Wilkinson, T. T. Early mathematical and philosophical writings of Dalton; — Memoir of J. Lawson. — Binney, E. W. Origin of iron stones; — Permian beds of the north west of England. — Kirkman, T. P. Polyedra; — K-partitions of N. — Dickinson, J. Statistics of collieries of Lancashire, Cheshire, and North Wales. — Schunck, E. Action of the ferment of madder on sugar; — Formation of indigo blue. — Smith, R. A. Sewage and sewage rivers; — Apparatus for collecting the gases from water and other liquids. — Index to the seventeen vols.
